Jovan Landry is an Interdisciplinary Artist with a focus in Film, Photography & Hip-Hop Music based in Chicago. The "One Third Emcee" is known for her articulated-conscious lyrics & high-energy stage presence. At the age of 16, Jovan was introduced to music production, then shortly after, grabbed the pen to craft her own lyrics. Inspirations from Left Eye, Eve, Common, Missy Elliott, Kendrick Lamar & Shawna has allowed her find her voice & an outlet of expression. In the span of her career, Jovan has self released 4 albums, collaborate with local artists and perform on hundreds of shows around the U.S. In 2016, Jovan added more versatility to her live performance by creating her 5-piece band “The Land.” In May 2017, Jovan was awarded the Incubate Grant by WeWork Creator Awards to make her 5th project her 5th album “Synergy,” that will be created exclusively by women in Chicago Hip Hop (2018). Through her music and visual work has had opportunities to speak at WeWork Created Awards in Berlin and participate as an emcee & filmmaker at danceGathering in Lagos, Nigeria.

PRESS

“Landry dominates the entirety of the stage, taking charge from song to song, playing off the building energy of her audience. Creating a performance that takes root in one’s mind for days later.” -Britt Julious, Chicago Tribune

“Jovan Landry hates the idea that artists are often forced into one category. As someone who is equal parts filmmaker, photographer, and emcee, she definitely does not fit neatly into one box.” -Reesa Hylton, WeWork

“On the mic, she’s able to rock the crowd, & she can deliver some hard, urgent rhymes about her current situation, but she can also switch it up and deliver on some quiet, intimate moments as well, and transition with ease into a more vulnerable delivery to match the lyrics.” - Chi Chi, Scratched Vinyl
