

Exhibit by JMS with lettering by AJB. JOHN NATION

On the ground floor

The Ground Floor Gallery got its start in 2006 as a gallery without a permanent home that adopted spaces around town for its shows. Now, it has a show called "Pressure" at the cooperative gallery Zephyr, 610 E. Market St.

The show features installations and sculptures by JMS (Jonathan Miles Stich) and hand-lettered text by AJB (Amanda Bishop). Both have been involved in previous Ground Floor Gallery shows, and Bishop is a partner in State Champs, a business that creates custom graphic design and text.

The exhibit, which also includes original soundtracks by Alex Ferguson-Bell of OK Deejays, runs through Aug. 10.

For more information, call (502) 585-5646 or visit zephyrgallery.org.

— Elizabeth Kramer, The Courier-Journal