Textbook: The Unfinished Nation 7th Edition – by Alan Brinkley, 2014.

Course Description:

This course is designed to increase the student’s understanding of United States History from its beginning to the present, its development and institutions. The goals of the class are to develop (1.) an understanding of some of the principle themes in early and modern U.S. History, (2.) an ability to analyze historical evidence, and (3.) an ability to analyze and to express historical understanding in writing and other forms of communication.

U.S. History is a fast paced and challenging course. Students should possess strong reading and writing skills and be willing to devote substantial time to study and the completion of class reading assignments. Emphasis is placed on class discussion, the use of primary and secondary sources, critical reading, and analytical writing.

Mastery of content and grades are important, but of equal value are the following:

- study and analytical skills
- critical reading of primary and secondary sources
- understanding and developing the historical thinking skills (e.g., Contextualization, Comparison, Causation, and Continuity and Change Over Time)
- developing the ability to make effective arguments
- constructing and evaluating historical interpretations
- using historical knowledge as a guide to present understanding and action
- empathizing with the past

This course requires hard work and a commitment to intellectual growth. All students are also strongly encouraged to take the AP Exam at the end of the school year (Friday, May 11th – AM). Letters of recommendation will not be written for students who do not. We hope that you will be rewarded with a sense of accomplishment and the belief that even a rigorous class can be enjoyable.

Semester One is History 1301 and by the end you will be able to:

- a. Discuss the Age of Exploration
- b. Explain Colonization
- c. Identify the Causes and effects of the American Revolution
- d. Explain the origins and impact of Slavery
- e. Analyze the formation of the Republic
- f. Summarize the effects of Expansion and Innovation
- g. Explain Nationalism and Sectionalism
- h. Discuss the Civil War

- i. Evaluate the effects of Reconstruction
- j. Create an argument through the use of historical evidence
- k. Analyze and interpret primary and secondary sources
- l. Analyze the effects of historical, social, political, economic, cultural and global forces on this period of United States history
- m. Understand the importance of chronology and how earlier ideas and events shaped later events.

Semester Two is History 1302:

- a. Explain the features of the Gilded Age and the issues on society, culture, and politics
- b. Summarize Industrialism and Urbanization
- c. Analyze the New South and Jim Crow
- d. Explain Populism and Progressivism
- e. Identify the causes and effects of WWI and the US
- f. Discuss America between the wars
- g. Identify the causes of WW2 and the Cold War
- h. Discuss Post-war America at home
- i. Discuss Post-modern America

Assignments:

1. Survey text: You are responsible for reading and studying the survey text by Brinkley. Our calendar will detail the schedule for reading and daily activities as well as quiz and test dates. You will initially be provided with a study guide to help you take notes while you read. While some of the text will be discussed in detail, much of it will be covered through independent learning.

*Note: Chapter reading quizzes based on the text will be given to encourage students to stay abreast of reading assignments. These quizzes may or may not be announced.

2. Supplemental readings: You will be given primary and secondary reading materials (essays, documents, etc.) that will deal with a concept emphasized on tests. The materials are to be read and eventually used to help construct and defend a thesis within timed and untimed written essay.

3. Monographs—you will be required to read at least 2 books per semester outside of class and prepare a graded report.

4. Notes: Good note taking skills are essential in any college-level class. You are required to take notes on all readings, lectures and discussions. Copying from a web page is lazy and close to useless.

5. Research: Research is a significant part of this course. Use of a college library and primary sources in original research will be expected. More information on this assignment will follow.

Evaluation:

Major Grades (60%)

Exams/Papers/Projects: During each nine weeks at least one exam will be given. Each exam could include both multiple choice and free-response questions. Large projects will also be assigned and be graded as a major grade.

Exams/Projects are 60% of the nine weeks average. Each nine weeks there will be at least three major grades.

Exams will be scheduled on EVEN days with other Social Studies classes.

REQUIRED PAPERS--Students will select and read one Historical Monograph from the recommended booklist for an analytical paper. The list will be posted on your instructor's web site along with the format required. Books MUST be approved in advance. Due date for this report will be listed in the Class Schedule. Students are expected to hand in their paper on the designated day at the beginning of class. Late papers will lose points for each late class day. After 3 class days, they will not be accepted. You will submit your paper to Turnitin.com, however, you MUST turn in a printed copy to your instructor on the DUE DATE. Absence does not buy you an extra day—or hour—papers are still due at the beginning of class. If you are absent, an electronic copy is due by your class period and a paper copy immediately upon your return. Skipping class does NOT buy you more time.

NOTE: This Syllabus and Unit Outline are posted on your instructor's web page all semester.

Minor Grades (40%)

Quizzes and Small Projects and Daily Grades: We will have numerous reading and informational quizzes. They will often be open note and take place at the beginning of class. If you are tardy and arrive after the quiz has started or absent the day of the quiz, you will be required to take a make-up quiz that will not be the same quiz or form, but will cover the same material. It will be your responsibility to schedule makeup quizzes. There will be relatively few daily grades. Homework, group or individual presentations, and many other assignments are considered daily grades. Please be aware that all work done in class or for homework may not be taken for a grade. All assignments are individual assignments unless specifically noted otherwise (see Academic Honesty). This part of your grade will be based on the quality of your participation and responses during classroom activities such as: seminars, discussions, debates, etc. Inattention, off task behavior and unpreparedness will hurt you.

Makeup and Late Work:

1. Makeup work: Makeup tests and quizzes are to be completed by appointment. This appt. must be made and completed within 3 days after your return to class. If this is not accomplished, the result will be a zero for that test/quiz. The responsibility for makeup is entirely the student's.

2. Late work: NO LATE WORK WILL BE ACCEPTED for daily work/homework but major grades will be accepted late (with penalty). This is a college level course and you will be expected to rise to that standard.

Special Note:  Because exams may be curved and opportunities to raise your average with supplemental assignments will be given (film notes, etc.): AT THE END OF THE NINE WEEKS AND SEMESTER, GRADES WILL NOT BE "BUMPED" FROM 79 TO 80, 89 TO 90, ETC. And no additional work will be given.

Thus, students should not ask for this consideration.**

General Information:

1. Attendance: The nature and format of this course make it imperative that you be in class every day. Some of the learning in your absence is virtually impossible to make up, but you can minimize the problem by acquiring notes and such from members of your team.

Excused Absences: It is the student's responsibility to make-up class work, test, and quizzes in a timely manner. If you absence is excused I will be very flexible with you in making anything up, as I know that you do have other classes and all will have work for you to complete.

Unexcused Absences: Unexcused absences are UNACCEPTABLE.

Key point: DO NOT SKIP my class and be sure to have absences officially excused by the attendance office.

2. Materials: These items are required each day in addition to your textbook:

1. 3 ring binder with dividers
2. Paper (loose leaf, lined, notebook paper / No Spiral Paper Accepted)
3. Blue or Black pen – pretty colors are nice but not for class work
4. Highlighters in yellow, blue, pink, orange, green. BIC makes a five pack but any brand is fine.

3. National Exam: The advanced placement national exam is administered at MHS in May. It takes approximately 3 hours and consists of 2 parts, multiple choice and essay. We strongly encourage dual credit students to take this exam.

5. For HCC Dual Credit Students: ADA Statement: If you have any type of disability, please let your instructor know immediately. MHS and HCCS have counselors who are more than willing to assist you in any way possible.

The HCC ADA office will also let us know what you require and we will assist you to the best of our ability. Any student with a documented disability who needs to arrange reasonable accommodations should contact the Disability Services Office at the HCC at the beginning of each semester. Faculty members are authorized to provide only the accommodations requested by the Disability Support Service Office.

Expectations:

1. Work load: This is a college level history course. The amount of reading and writing necessary for success may be a shock to some students. However, if you organized yourself and are diligent with your time, you will find success. In the first semester (18 weeks) you will read and be responsible for the first 22 chapters of the textbook. Thus, the time to begin reading is NOW! Once you receive your textbook you should plan to read and take notes each night. If you pace yourself you will not get overwhelmed. As you become accustomed to the course format and texts, things will fall into place and become manageable. It is important to not get discouraged.

2. Deadlines are deadlines: Assignments are due on or before a given due date. You will be provided a unit or weekly calendar throughout the course, so there will be no exceptions, unless in the case of emergency (death, severe illness/injury requiring hospitalization, etc.). Please schedule getting your license, your teeth cleaned, etc for after school.

3. Academic Honesty: Scholastic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, cheating on a test, plagiarism, and collusion. Cheating on a test includes, but is not limited to, copying from another student's test paper; using, during a test, materials not authorized by the instructor; collaborating with another student during a test without permission; knowingly using, buying, selling, stealing, transporting, or soliciting in whole or part the contents of an un-administered or previously administered test; or bribing another person to obtain a test that is to be administered; or unauthorized access to previously administered exam questions. Collusion means the unauthorized collaboration with another person in preparing for an exam or in creating work offered for credit. Plagiarism is the appropriation of another's work and/or the unacknowledged incorporation of that work in one's own written work for credit.

- We consider four (4) words or more taken from someone else or some other written source for which credit is not given as plagiarism.
- Notes for reading quizzes MUST be in student's own handwriting.
- Students in violation of this policy will be dealt with severely. Zeros and detention are the norm.
- Major assignments/papers will be submitted to TurnItIn.com
