

Take The Blame

words and music by Brian Davis; © 2011 do you smell that music

v1

C#m B/D# E
This was not the first time that you've sat upon my couch

C#m B/D# E
Bemoaning all the ways that you've been wronged

C#m B/D# E
This was not the first time that you've ever played the part

B C#m
Of the fool in this play

C#m B/D# E
This was not the first time that you've had your fire quenched

C#m B/D# E
Doused by the critics in the crowd

C#m B/D# E
This was not the first time that you've felt the sting of pain

B C#m
As failure cuts through your skin

ch

A E
If I could take the blame for all the wrong done in your life

A E
And place it on my shoulders, you know that I would try

A E
If I could take the fall for all the times you've tried and failed

B B7 C#m B/D# E
You know I would, you know I would take the blame

v2

C#m B/D# E
This won't be the last time that you ever feel ashamed

C#m B/D# E
Falling down is something we all do

C#m B/D# E
But we try to mitigate the pain and suff'ring that we feel

B C#m
If we play it safe, we'll make it through

v3

C#m B/D# E
This won't be the last time that you'll sit upon my couch

C#m B/D# E
You know this is a safe place you can land

C#m B/D# E
This world is full of plans and schemes designed to hold us down

B C#m
And when it does, reach out your hands
