

The Roosevelt's (mostly episode 5) Depression and New Deal

1. When was the stock market crash?
2. Give one example of how badly people were affected by the Great Depression-
3. Who did the people blame
4. Who were the candidates in the 1932 election?
5. Who is Harold Ickes and what does he do?
6. What analogy is given in regard to the number of people unemployed when FDR takes office?
7. What three presidents are 'larger than the office they inherited' and why?
8. What was the purpose of FDR's first fireside chat?
9. What is 'the first one hundred days' and what has it come to mean?
10. What is the New Deal?
11. How was the swearing in of FDR's cabinet different than the norm and why?
12. Give one example of how Eleanor Roosevelt changed the role of first lady-
13. Throughout her time in the White House, ER is an ardent supporter of _____ and never allows the struggle to be far from the president's attention.
14. How does FDR control how much the people know about his physical limitations?
15. Identify and describe the CCC-
16. What is the National Labor Relations Act?
17. What about the Social Security Act?
18. New Deal programs fall into three categories—Name and explain each—
19. The Supreme Court declares the _____ unconstitutional so Franklin Roosevelt attempts to shore up his other New Deal reforms by devising a plan to "pack" the Supreme Court . Explain...

20. During the 1930s, most Americans deplore the events unfolding in Europe under the leadership of _____ and _____, but many do not want the United States to become involved.
21. As Hitler's demands increase and the harrowing events of Kristallnacht in 1938 and the invasion of Czechoslovakia in 1939 take place, FDR begs Congress to allow arms sales to _____ and _____, but the proposal is watered down in the House and never reaches the Senate floor.
22. As his second terms nears an end, Roosevelt is contemplating something no president has ever considered before – What is it?
23. Identify the primary characters and items in the cartoon below... at least 5
24. THEN Explain Roosevelt's attitude/approach in relation to the cartoon.

