The Beginning

September 27 — October 14, 2012

Beginnings — (est. August 2012) is a small storefront gallery in the Greenpoint neighborhood of Brooklyn, with seven different artist/curators presenting a program of contemporary art in a welcoming environment.

The Beginning is the first group show, a gorgeous catalog of nearly thirty artists, travelling the underground and overground international ley lines with stops in Californian bio-geometry, Berliner clear-imagination, Providential neo-psych, op-sculpture Japonisme, the zen meshes of Chicago, Brooklynite paint concrète, rigorous Anglican graphism and many more wild and wonderful points along the way. Paintings, drawings, photographs, marks on paper and cloth and other objects, shapes, colors, lines, 2-D and 3-D things to look at—no unifying theme or concept—but strangely coherent as a sampler of the seven curators' brains.

What's art for anymore? How can contemporary art be bought and sold in a healthy, progressive way? How can new artists support/be supported in their community? In the 21st century, what are the most satisfying and effective roles of the gallery? The gallerist? The gallery-goers?

We got no idea, but we're happy to present this art and these artists.

About Beginnings—

We are resolved to explore all the right ways that art can serve and support its audience and its creators—with thoughtful curation, best design practices and financial transparency. We are independent in politics and philosophy, but fully engaged in aesthetics, commerce and love.

Beginnings— is Anni Altshuler, Archie Lee Coates IV, Matthew Giordano, Caroline Hwang, Andy C. Jenkins, Matt Leines and Joel Speasmaker.
