To Whom It May Concern:

Thank you for your support of our Scholarship Roundtable program!

We are a socio-economic movement recognized by the IRS as a 501c3 tax exempt organization that was originally founded by Monica C. Harris in 2008 as a means to fulfill her call to contribute to the transformations of financial dependency to self sufficiency amongst families living in depressed communities. The manifestation of her vision launched in 2015.

Our mission is to increase self-sufficiency, decrease financial dependency and eliminate financial illiteracy by delivering a consistent and meaningful presence within the communities in which we serve that advocates the availability of immediate assistance in improving individual lifestyles through spiritual, mental, professional, physical and financial literacy.

We currently foster our mission through two programs, Scholarship Roundtable and the RDOOG Game of Life. Both programs serve high school juniors and seniors throughout their college academic careers with the primary objective of funding the costs with as little, to no debt, as possible.

You may refer to the sponsorship and donation outline included with this letter for details on the value of your support.

With gratitude,

Monica C. Harris
Chief Executive Officer

RDOG Game of Life Reviews

Hello Ms. Harris and Royal Daughters of God,

I am a teacher at Thornwood High School, and had the privilege of taking 4 small class of mine to hear and observe your presentation last Friday. ....

I wanted my 2 classes of seniors and 3 classes of Economics students to be able to work thru your choices to see how they would fair in the future. It really is an excellent, worthwhile activity for them.

Thank you so very much,
- Educator, Thornwood High School

Very realistic for students in my economics classes, and for seniors about to graduate
-Educator, Thornwood High School

What was most valuable to you in the presentation?
The Energy

Why?
Students found it relate-able.
-Host & Executive Director, The A-Team! Educational Consulting with RTI

*When students were asked
What was most valuable to you in the presentation?*
"Every single part"

"the explanation of how things will work in the real world. how much we will actually be required to spend and a realistic thought of how much we will actually have monthly"

"The way it taught young adults how to prepare for college and life after college."

"Everything"

"Choosing the right school and student loans"

"Learning how to manage money and why to apply for scholarships"

"Actually choosing the right college"

"The knowledge of how much the amount of money could build up from different sources."

"Being abled to interact with the lesson"

"Learning about how taxes and loans work"

"Knowing how much money would be left over after handling your priorities."

"The energy."
