The interconnected currents of Cooperative Consciousness—identity, materials, substance and formlessness—typify the range of artistic diversity and experimental approaches that have always characterized the work and creative practices of A.I.R. artists. Founded in 1972 New York, A.I.R. (Artists in Residence, Inc.) is the pioneer women's cooperative gallery in the United States with sustained operation and activities for the past forty-five years.

During the course of the exhibition, a series of programs and a panel discussion will attempt to initiate dialogue with women artists and others over varied issues encompassing feminism and the arts.
