

Your Love

I am unfaithful with wondering eyes
I'm always searching for lovers less wild
I've tasted your love on my tongue and my lips
Still I'm seduced by less beautiful scents

Something inside of me says that you're a lie
You'll just desert me leave me asking why
I let you in, I let you inside
This flesh inside me will cause me to die

*Your love is always faithful
Your love is always secure
Your love is never ending
It never fails
Your love is always patient
Your love is always kind
Your love is never ending
It never fails*

Your heart jealous, it's beaming and pure
You have a beauty that goes beyond words
Amazing and lovely will never come close
To the grace that you show me, the ease of your yoke

Something inside of me says your are good
You'll never leave me, you'll fight for my love
This battle is bloody, you're on the front lines
This flesh inside of me has caused you to die

Give me eyes only for you
Give me a heart that breaks for you
Consume my mind with thoughts of you
And your perfect love
