Sheffield Place Events:

Sheffield Place has scheduled a number of events for 2014 to support the safe and permanent housing for families seeking housing and services.

Sheffield Place Golf Tournament

The strategic direction of Sheffield Place continues to be growth – serving more clients with more services to meet an increasing portion of the need for services among homeless, mother-led families. In 2013, the agency served more clients with more services than ever. That growth will continue in the years ahead.

At the same time, however, the quiet crisis of mother-led family homelessness continued to grow. In 2013, Sheffield Place received 560 telephone calls from families seeking housing and services (compared with 505 in 2012). The agency was able to assist 49 of those families.

Sheffield Place is striving to serve more clients in two ways:

- We have increased the size of families we admit from a mother with two children in years past to mothers with up to five children.

- We will expand the agency’s housing capacity by 40% in 2014 by adding three units in the existing building and by purchasing and rehabilitating three houses in the neighborhood for client use. We look forward to purchasing and renovating additional homes for client use in the years ahead.

Through these efforts, more homeless, mother-led families in Kansas City will be safe today, strong tomorrow.
Dear Friends,

2013 – A Year of Growth and Change

One reason we serve more families is that we provide more programming than in the past - 13 hours of services each week including case management, therapy, and life skills. These services and the clients’ hard work allow them to move more quickly to their own homes. Sheffield Place then provides continuing case management and other services. The average length of stay is now 24 months with a maximum of 24 months.

Another area of expansion has been in the number of volunteers who contribute their time, talent, and energy to the mission of healing and self-sufficiency. In 2013, 337 volunteers contributed 5379 hours of service – a new record.

A new constituency group - Friends of Sheffield Place – the program that empowered children to capture their dreams for the future with a camera and then turned the photos into greeting cards – will return to Sheffield Place late this summer. We are delighted with their continuing partnership. Cards are available for purchase at www.sheffieldplace.org.

Women Who Make a Difference Dinner

Sheffield Place held the annual ‘Women Who Make a Difference’ dinner in March. Each year, we invite a special woman who has made a difference in her – perhaps a friend, case manager, or addiction counselor.

The event also honors the women who have made a difference to Sheffield Place. This year, products of the four, Niala, MA, was the honoree. In hervery voice, Niala organizes a monthly craft night for the children and invites her colleagues at Zara, among other assistance of services.

Moly-Cop, the global leader in hot forged grinding balls used by mining companies, operates a major manufacturing operation just a few blocks from Sheffield Place at the old Armco Steel site. The President of Moly-Cop, Sue Sheffield, serves as a member of the Sheffield Place board of directors.

In 2013, Moly-Cop completed a significant project to better secure entry into the plant site, including the construction of a perimeter fence and a main entry gate with a gate house. We decided to employ a temporary employee to work as a gate attendant to help us control and monitor the volume and type of traffic entering the plant. This traffic includes trucks to load bottled water, product and delivery trucks. The longer term plan was to perform this task through rotation of members of the shipping crew.

Initially, we attempted to fill this position by using temporary employment agencies, but the candidates presented were unenthusiastic. We discussed this predicament in our weekly safety committee meeting and Norm Thomas, a member of our leadership team, suggested we approach some of the charitable organizations that operate in that area. That’s when we contacted Kelly Welch at Sheffield Place and after reviewing several candidates, she suggested we contact Stari Potter about the position.

Stari, with the support of Sheffield Place, recently became self-sufficient, but was still seeking good employment. She had recently experienced a series of layoffs, but had past experience as an administrative assistant intern with the City of Kansas City and claimed to have excellent computer skills, including proficiency in Microsoft Office. We decided to give her a chance and hired her as our gate attendant on October 14, 2013.

Initially, the plan was for this to be a temporary position to fill for only three or four months. Within the first week, however, we could see that Stari was special. In addition to performing her primary job, she took the initiative to better organize many of our records using MS Excel spreadsheets and MS Access databases. When we discovered her proficiency in this area, we gave her many more tasks, including organizing our plant’s safety and safety assurance records. She is now conducting all safety inductions for new visitors entering the main gate to the plant, and when doing so, she is definitely “in-charge,” even with salty old truck drivers. By all measures, she is doing an excellent job and has completed many valuable-added activities for our business.

At the end of December 2013, a long-time member of our team died. One of his primary jobs was to perform shipping related activities, including generating Bill of Ladings for outgoing shipments and checking freight accuracy. Stari trained to perform the activities, and is now the full-time operations clerk with Moly-Cop.

Moly-Cop benefits from the skills and work ethic Stari has brought to our company, and it is our hope that this relationship can continue for many years to come.
