A SUPER GREAT EXPERIENCE

An unusual art residency brings a spirit of creativity to a FantaCity flea market

By Shaw DeCicco, Staff Writer

GREENSBORO—It all began with "What if...?" When artist and educator Lois Wilton and her husband, David, visited the flea market, they were struck by the energy and creativity of the vendors. "What if we could bring a group of artists to the market to create something new?" Wilton asked. "What if we could bring a group of artists to the market to create something new?" Wilton asked. "What if we could bring a group of artists to the market to create something new?" Wilton asked.

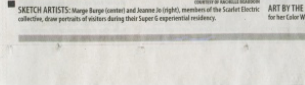

CARDBOARD CASTLE: Artist Lois Wilton and her husband, David, built a cardboard castle during the residency at the FantaCity flea market.

CREATIVE LOADING: Lois Wilton and her husband, David, built a cardboard castle during the residency at the FantaCity flea market. The residency was a success, with many artists participating and creating new works.

WANT TO PARTICIPATE? If you're interested in participating in the residency, contact Lois Wilton at wilson@fancity.com. The residency is open to all artists and is free of charge.
